The Social Collective was recognised as the winner of the Coca-Cola Shaping a Better Future Challenge 2014, which was awarded at Davos through the World Economic Forum. The company was chosen for its innovative use of technology to enhance the employability of individuals while also tracking social impact. Since then, the team has expanded to meet the demands of impact reporting for implementation partners and communities. The company has now become a crucial technology for validating impact data.

Our Journey

Over a decade of impact technology innovation.

Client Testimonials

Hear from the enterprises scaling their impact with us.

"The Social Collective sufficiently meets (and in instances surpasses) the expectations of clients, is applicable to a range of themes, project complexity and KPI measurements and continues to be innovated in ways which benefit clients and make reporting easier, quicker and more insightful."

AG Allan Gray

"Before TSC, KFC struggled with managing numerous beneficiaries and receiving and aggregating granular data. They also had business continuity issues whereby data was being saved in mailboxes and would be lost when members in the M&E team left."

KFC KFC

"The Assupol Trust did not have an M&E function before TSC and they were using paper-based systems to record data which was prone to error and time intensive. Like the others, they were also price sensitive in their search for M&E tools."
